Healing of the Canoe Survey Annotations

With annotations about the source of each question and any adaptations

The first iteration of this survey tool was collaboratively designed by the Alcohol & Drug Abuse Institute at the University of Washington, HOC staff from the Port Gamble S’Klallam and Suquamish Tribes, the THRIVE project at the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board, and NPC Research. After a year of use, the THRIVE project and NPC Research revised the surveys, as posted here.

For more information about the tool, its measures and sources, and data collection plans, please contact Tamara Perkins, Research Associate at NPC Research (perkins@npcresearch.com).
